

Star Man

(Lyrics ©2018 • Stephen Bloodsworth)

Brother Oh Brother where are you now?
Brother Oh Brother the stars are all out
And I can't help but wonder aloud
If I will ever find out

Brother Oh Brother your planet's so bright
The ceiling of stars how they light up this night
There is hope in my heart that you're free
And some day you will come visit me

Brother Oh Brother where are you tonight?
I wait here alone just to witness your flight
I'll keep stars all around till you softly touch down
Oh Brother where are you tonight?

What's out there to know? What's out there to see?
So many questions, they're haunting me

Brother Oh Brother what am I to do?
The stars come alive when my thoughts turn to you
I will map all the heavens and show you the way
Oh Brother now what do you say?

What's out there to know? What's out there to see?
So many questions, they're haunting me

Brother Oh Brother when I look within
I get the feeling you know where I've been
You could tell me the story of where I began
Oh Brother please come if you can
